

Les Comes 4×4 Extreme postpones its celebration by application of the Covid-19 prevention protocol.

Following the recommendations of the Ministry of Health of the Spain's Government and considering that Les Comes 4 × 4 Extreme is an event that involves the displacement of a large number of people and their concentration in the same space, the Organization is forced to postpone the celebration of this race to a date yet to be determined.

The first race of the "4x4 Iberian King" championship should be held from March 27th to 29th on Les Comes estate, located in the town of Súria (Barcelona), but the measures of the competent authorities to stop the expansion of COVID-19 have forced to postpone the race to a date yet to be determined.

The next scheduled races of the championship are: EXTREME SORIA, from May 1 to 3, KING OF PORTUGAL from May 27 to 30, GALLAECIA CHALLENGE from September 25 to 27 and NORTEX4 CHALLENGE from October 23 to 25. The championship organizers do not yet know if the government measures will affect future races and they will wait to know the next decisions of the competent administrations to decide about the possible postponement of other races.

All pilots and race teams, who have paid the registration fee, can choose between recovering 100% of the amount or saving their registration for the future date of the event. In addition, there will be a second opportunity to request the return of the registration when the new date of the event will be announced.

The organization regrets this situation and the prejudice that it may suppose for the participating teams. Because the current circumstances and trying to collaborate as much as possible with health authorities, and in order to not expose those attending the event, the championship promoters have been forced to adopt this measure.

All the information and news about this situation will be published through the official website 4x4iberianking.com and on social networks @lescomes4x4extreme.
